

Danish Society for Personalised Medicine
A Scientific Society with Focus on Individualised Therapy

Research Symposium

June 26th 2025, 14.00 - 17.00

University of Copenhagen, School of Pharmaceutical Sciences, Jagtvej 160, 2100 KBH Ø
Building 22, 3rd floor, Room 22-3-302

Programme

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 14.00-14.05 | Welcome |
| 14.05-14.45 | PGx guided therapy of oxycodone in cancer pain
Andrew Somogyi, Professor, PhD, Discipline of Pharmacology, University of Adelaide |
| 14.45-15.05 | Should We Monitor Plasma Ibrutinib Exposure to Improve Treatment in Chronic Lymphocytic Leukaemia (CLL)?
Cathrine Korsholm, MD, PhD Student, Dept. of Clinical Pharmacology, Bispebjerg Hospital |
| 15.05-15.35 | Coffee and networking |
| 15.35-15.55 | Medication-Related Admissions Among Older Patients in the Emergency Department: Can PGx Testing Information Contribute to Prevention?
Louise W.S. Christensen, PhD student, Dept. Clinical Research and Capital Region Pharmacy |
| 15.55-16.15 | Gene Therapy for Metachromatic Leukodystrophy.
Sabine Grønborg, MD, Consultant, Dept. of Clinical Genetics, Copenhagen University Hospital. |
| 16.15-16.55 | Indicators for Pharmacogenetic Testing in Australia.
Andrew Somogyi, Professor, PhD, Discipline of Pharmacology, University of Adelaide |
| 16.55-17.00 | Closing remarks |

Participation is free of charge; however, it is compulsory to sign up via LinkedIn or mail to: llc@sund.ku.dk
Deadline for signing up is June 13th at noon.